EXPERIENCE

- Appealed the rejection of a client's product design to the Board of Patents. The Board held that the client's product design was not the same design as the patented design and allowed the registration of the client's design as a Design Patent.
- Drafted a petition covering three complex cases; this petition was ultimately accepted for review by the Board of Patents.
- Secured the registration of a patent after a lengthy review and administrative process.
- Advised an international insecticide technology company on patent drafting and filing. The matter involved freedom to operate searches, strategic reshaping and amending of the patent, and advising on an international filing plan.
